Our challenge

How might we use LLM to make learning engaging? 🤔

Shifting the student's role in their educational process.

From a passive learner
(the zombie student)

To an active agent
on the process

Highlight & Discover

Stoicism

- Ancient Greece is universally regarded as the cradle of philosophical thought.
- The Ancient Greeks sought to answer the eternal questions of humanity, trying to make sense of a turbulent universe and the place of human beings in that universe.

Stoicism

- Stoicism is one of the gifts of ancient Athens.
- Stoicism continues to have a philosophical draw for many, with its emphasis on the importance of detaching from one's emotions in order to live a life of virtue and to develop one's self as a moral being.

Time to practice 🖋️

X

Can you point out the main pillars of the stoic philosophy?

I am not sure, I guess it means being totally able to not feel anything, right?

Not exactly that, the pillars are: discipline, virtue and acceptance. Do you remember the concept of the Whole?

Oh, you're right!The stoics understood nature, feelings and reality as one indivisible fabric, where we would all be governed by the same laws and superior intelligence. We are all part of nature from inside to outside

Spot on! Now let's talk about the concept of virtue?
